SOME LOCAL OVERFLOW.

Fall goods are arriving.

It is time to plant fall advertisements.

Several "to be" marriages are spoken of.

A good assortment of cookies just arrived at Rush's.

Benjamin Mason is expected home today from Colorado.

Travel in this direction from the North is rapidly increasing.

W. J. Bethel returned Monday from his trip to New York.

WANTED—To buy a large office safe; call at Holly Inn.

A stiff northeaster has been blowing for past twenty-four hours.

Fred Haven, the blacksmith, went up to Jacksonville the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Godwin have moved into the Smith's cottage on Magnolia avenue.

Fresh line of cereals and whole wheat flour just received from the Pura Mills at Rush's.

I. Humphries killed a rattlesnake on Loomis avenue last week; it measured nearly six feet in length.

Frank Hand and A. Pellett took a load of traveling men to New Smyrna on the launch Orville Sunday.

F. L. Corwin was in the city the latter part of the week in the interest of the Ocean Steamship Company.

August Schmidt returned to DeLand Wednesday afternoon to resume his studies at Stetson University.

Mrs. M. W. Glen left Tuesday afternoon for DeLand where she will teach in the public schools the coming year.

Dr. G. E. Morden left Wednesday for his visit to Canada. He will stop a few days to visit friends at Columbus, Ohio.

L. S. Scroble, traveling passenger and freight agent of the Clyde Line, was calling on Daytona business men Tuesday.

Bea Der, the barber, has had a number of cards made and framed; he will place them in the hotels and boarding houses.

If you want school books, tablets or stationery of any kind, go to Geo. H. Clark's; he has a large stock to select from.

Miss Gail Moore returned home Tuesday evening from a summer's visit with friends and relatives at Eustis, this state.

Under the law the slaughter of deer began Tuesday in this state. Quail, turkey, etc., may live until the first of next month.

Mrs. G. H. Ludwig arrived from Cleveland Thursday, and the Mayor and his wife are now occupying their beautiful home on Volusia avenue.

Graham King, of Telford, will supply the hotels and boarding houses with vegetables this winter. Mr. King is one of Duane county's most successful farmers.

R. L. Wall returned Thursday afternoon from his northern trip. He visited in Chicago and Iowa points, as well as several cities in Wisconsin during his absence.

Those of our residents who are returning from their summer sojourns at the North invariably report that an even larger influx of winter visitors will come to Florida this season.

A. L. Davis, in company with his brother, J. A. Davis, has opened a meat market across the river, on Seabreeze avenue, and handles a full line of all kinds of Florida and Western meats.

A New York judge decided that a bachelor, living in a bachelor apartment house, is not "a family," if he prepares his own breakfast. What is it, if some one else prepares the breakfast?

The weather has been quite pleasant the past couple of days. Many persons complain of the mildew which the dampness of the past several days occasioned, and clear, settled weather will be appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Thomas and daughter, Miss Libby, returned Monday from their two months' visit at Chicago and points in the Badger State. They were detained three days at Palatka on account of the washout.

With thirteen and a half inches of rainfall during the late storm, against ten inches in the big storm two years ago, we see our last storm is unprecedented in our section of country, according to the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

Large stock of latest novels just received at Geo. H. Clark's.

William J. McMann, of Bristol, R. I., will arrive in Daytona next week. He has accepted a position in Rush's grocery. Mr. McMann is well known here having been employed at the Ridgewood last winter and with Mason & Wall Co., the season before.

As Mr. Despland's sewer pipe is ten inches deeper than the street piping at the outlet, why cannot the street piping be lowered at the river end, thus letting the water out that much sooner from Palmetto street? We are told that the water still stands eighteen inches to two feet deep back of Mr. Bratt and Lindberg's shops.

C. H. SPENCER'S LETTER TO THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

"Daytona, Fla., Sept. 29, 1901. Hon. Charles Emory Smith, Postmaster-General, Washington, D. C. Dear Sir:—In the enforcement of a righteous law, the voice of the community is a secondary consideration. Such voice is presumed to be on the side of right where it ought to be.

"Mental Science at Seabreeze, under the leadership of the Posts, is a nest of anarchy and fraud. I distinctly do them the justice of stating that they do not openly advocate the change of social order by assassination and rapine; but they are propagandists of the doctrine that there is neither God nor moral law to restrain human conduct, and so lay the foundation for the most virulent anarchy. They sap and mine the principle of legitimate governmental authority. The fanaticism of no God is as dangerous as that of an intolerant God whom our forefathers banished from the constitution without putting into it the God of the people and of equal justice to all. The social discontent of envy, hate, greed and human top-loftiness, needs to be cured, without infringement of just liberty of speech, press and business.

"This social poison is the only equivalent they give to their many victims through the mails whom they mule of money by absent treatment under the false pretense of furnishing something valuable in return. The sooner the postoffice authorities curb the social poison and fraud, the better for law and order. Faith moves mountains by responsible liberty and not by magic or the miraculosity of human Almightiness. Human Almightiness is the principle of anarchy and demagogism. The ideal of anarchy is an all-wise and an all-just man, which is a cosmic impossibility in the order of concrete fact. The difference between God and man is the orbit of human progress toward infinite excellence potentialized for human realization in time and eternity by the fulfillment of His infinite moral obligation as a perfect Providence, exacting the fulfillment of man's moral obligation as a finite and fallible being to be wiser and better forever by learning to conform to the infinite uniformity of the law of the best in the absolute standard of right and wrong of an educational and disciplinary universe of optimism. Knowable optimism is the concrete order of universal fact, constitutes the chart and compass of human experiment, and consecrates the government of the people as legitimate and binding on the consciences of all mankind. In the future, atheism, evolution, inspiration, incarnation of the Almighty as the maximum form of the special revelation of divine monopoly, must make way for fundamental human rights and duties and the duty of God and man to respect them as best they can. To that end government exists among men that men should learn and practice social self-government by equal justice to all after the manner of the divine.

"I would suggest that if the Mental Science Convention, to be held in the near future at Seabreeze, plants itself squarely upon the American platform of God and justice, the prosecution be dismissed, otherwise to the bitter end. The object of all law is not vengeance, but the reform of the offender, and where the free State is itself partially at fault in not educating aright the offender, leniency is advisable. The Almighty cannot evolve or create Himself into anything else than the infinite excellence of responsible liberty and justice to all without shrouding the universe in the pessimism of unknowability. Yours very respectfully,

C. H. SPENCER.

Whether he is altogether satisfactory or not, President Roosevelt is going to be interesting.

Editor Cordington, of the DeLand News, had the misfortune to break his shoulder bone Thursday.

Criminal Court meets at DeLand next Tuesday. The docket this term is not so full as last but nevertheless it has several cases of interest to Daytonians.

Mrs. George Hatch, of Rockledge, who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hatch for the past ten days, returned home Wednesday.

Miss M. S. Thomas, of Zellwood, Fla., is spending a few weeks of Schmidt's Villa. Miss Thomas was in Daytona three years ago and spent several weeks.

Mrs. H. M. Dow, of Satsuma, who has been ill at Schmidt's Villa for the last four weeks, has regained her health and left yesterday for St. Augustine where she will visit for a few weeks.

Editor Guy Metcalf and family were on the southbound train Thursday, returning to West Palm Beach from North Carolina, where Mrs. Metcalf and the children have been summering.

Most everybody around Daytona is busy gardening just now. Those who planted before the heavy rains of last week will have to replant some of their seeds, as some were washed up.

General John B. Gordon, the idol of the Confederacy, and who is much beloved by all classes of citizens all over the United States, passed through Daytona Thursday en route to Miami and Havana.

Ravenel Baker, who lived near Turnbull Bay, was bitten by a rattlesnake Tuesday morning and died the same evening from the effects of the bite. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his demise.

Henry M. Flagler and bride have been sojourning at their beautiful northern home "Santamoe," at Mamaronock, New York, for a couple of weeks or so. They will occupy their palatial new residence at West Palm Beach in December.

It is feared that the large quantity of fresh water which has been flowing into Turnbull Bay the past week will kill the oysters again. The finest oysters in Florida are raised in Turnbull Bay, and it is hoped that they will remain uninjured.

Rev. William A. Schaeffer, of Philadelphia, was bitten by a rattlesnake Tuesday morning and died the same evening from the effects of the bite. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his demise.

Holly Hill News.

We are all thankful to have the old Halifax regain its usual dimensions once more. Last week some of our adventurous citizens went from here in a row-boat down the road as far as the Daytona postoffice. Our docks were all submerged, and the gardens in the hammock drowned out. Fortunately there has been very little wind accompanying the high tide, or an incalculable amount of damage would undoubtedly have been the result.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Carter have been spending a few days in town, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hand.

Miss Harris is visiting her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Harris.

Our school reopened on Monday when a goodly number of our folks put in appearance and seemed pleased to resume their studies after the long vacation.

Miss Donegan, who for some weeks has been on a visit at Mrs. Mabbett's returned Tuesday to her home at Kissimmee.

The bridges on the front road which were carried away or rendered unsafe by the recent inundation, have been repaired, but the road is still in a very soft condition, and driving along it is not attended with very much pleasure. The back road is infinitely preferable both for carriage and bicycles.

On Sunday afternoon the launch "Tomoka" took a party out for a short cruise up and down the river. It proved a pleasant recreation for all on board.

Our mail carrier had some very unpleasant experiences when carrying Uncle Sam's bag last week. He had to wade through water almost up to his armpits, and then wait for a train that did not come. Truly the lot of a country mail carrier is "not always a happy one."

From The Ocala Evening Star Of April 1st, 1901.

"We are indebted to Mr. George Close for the finest cabbage and lettuce we have ever seen grown in Florida. Mr. Close is a man of fine judgment, and one of the most successful truckers in the State, and he is as generous and large-hearted as he is prosperous."

Mr. Close bought his seed from the Old Reliable Seedman, J. B. Sutton, who handles only the best seeds to be had especially adapted to Florida, and makes a specialty of the finest strains of Cabbage, Egg Plant, Lettuce, Onion and Tomato seed. See display advertisement in another column.

A HIGH SCHOOL CLIPPING.

High School recommenced Monday morning with twenty-seven bright pupils, laughing and chatting as only high school students can. Miss Brown was at her desk, as smiling and pleasant as ever, with a hearty greeting for each, while jolly Professor held undisputed sway in the hall. All seats filled and more scholars expected. Do we not need an annex? "We seniors" move about with done-up hair and trailing gowns, talking of Physics, Geometry, Cicero, Botany and Paradise Lost, in that free and easy manner so much admired and envied by the "freshmen," upon whose toes we cannot refrain from stepping now and then, and when we hear that peculiar crunch, which does our hurt, turning superciliously to remark, "Oh! pardon me, I really did not see you," and move off, thus leaving the poor "freshie" more humiliated than ever before. But there are juniors and seniors, and the high school moves on apace.
